

VICTORY DANCE MEDIA KIT

Making the Impossible Possible with the Power of Movement

Photo Credits: Alonso Gregory, Brian Thomas, Cherylynn Tsushima, Christopher Duggan, Eric Bandiero, Jordan Hiraldo, Kyle Lemaire, Ramon Morilloand's

Vision

Amy Jordan has dedicated her career to training and performing for over three decades in prominent cities such as New York, Los Angeles, and Miami.

The Victory Dance Project made its debut in May 2014 with a sold-out performance at The Alvin Ailey Center for Dance.

The company mission: "Make the Impossible Possible with the Power of Movement." Amy Jordan has the capacity to mold dance styles including ballet, contemporary, hip hop, street jazz and lyrical. Her goal is always to allow audience and dancers alike to open their hearts and minds, tapping ideas and emotions through the story of dance her company embodies.

Jordan proudly declares, "I am a storyteller." I aim to provide every audience with the opportunity to laugh, cry, learn, reflect, and experience joy. At The Victory Dance Project, we believe that everything we create has a point and a purpose.

We are all currently experiencing a state of global trauma. The power of movement can tap our hearts in profound and impactful ways. This how we can heal, individually and collectively.

Meet Amy Jordan

Amy's mantra is: "Create Victory in the Moment."

The Victory Dance Project is a professional dance company on a mission to "Make the Impossible Possible with the Power of Movement." Amy Jordan has dedicated her training and career to the world of performing arts for over three decades.

Amy attributes her training and passion for dance to literally saving and rebuilding her life. Diagnosed with type 1 diabetes at age four, she found inspiration and discipline through dance.

Jordan utilized her dance background to establish the SWEET ENUFF Movement, a dance-based program dedicated to preventing diabetes and obesity among youth. In 2013, Sweet Enuff Movement achieved the honor of being one of the top five national finalists in First Lady Michelle Obama's "End Childhood Obesity Challenge."

Dance saved Amy's life again in 2009. She was hit and crushed by a New York City express bus. Told that she may never walk again, Amy vowed at the time of impact, "If I survive the night, there will be a victory dance."

That vow became reality with the 2014 premiere of the Victory Dance Project, a sold-out performance at the Alvin Ailey Center for Dance in New York City.

The award-winning book: Dance Because You Can; "5 Steps to Transform Trauma to Triumph", highlights the power of movement to transcend any adversity.

Amy Jordan is also the subject of the acclaimed documentary feature film "Amy's' Victory Dance", available on most major streaming platforms. The movie is directed by two-time Emmy nominee Brian Thomas and chronicles her journey to her literal victory dance, performing on stage with The Victory Dance Project in 2017.

Today, Amy Jordan is committed to supporting young dancers and artists towards fulfilling their highest potential through dance, art and life. As well as her work as a choreographer and master teacher, Amy Jordan is a skilled coach and NASM-certified fitness trainer. Additionally, she is highly sought-after as a motivational speaker.

TESTIMONIALS

"You are remarkable, Amy Jordan. You are put here to do what you are doing and show us what can happen with one's passion and soul." —Chita Rivera

"Dance Because You Can. I love that message. I love what you do. Thank you for inspiring the world."
— Leeza Gibbons

Honorees / Dancers

Ms. Chita Rivera—The 2017 Victory Dance Project recipient, the illustrious Ms. Chita Rivera embodies everything about being a 'Woman of Valor.'

Renee Robinson—began her dance training in classical ballet at the Jones-Haywood School of Ballet. She also attended the School of American Ballet, the Dance Theater of Harlem and The Ailey School.

Mickela Mallozzi—is the two-time Emmy® Award-winning host and producer of Bare Feet with Mickela Mallozzi, a travel series airing on public television stations nationwide.

Articles & Videos

Click images for full viewing

Victory Dance project Gala highlights with Chita Rivera

Victory Dance Project Master Classes

MEDIA

What Does Victory Mean to You?
Presented by The Victory Dance Project

Victory Dance Project Performance

Victory Dance Project Vision

This Dancer didn't let a tragic bus accident stop her shine—Tamron Hall

Click images for full viewing

Making the Impossible Possible With the Power of Movement—Dance Magazine

Dancer returns to stage after her leg was crushed by a bus—New York Post

Victory Dance Project Anniversary

National Endowment for the Arts Interview

New Movie documents Palm Beach Gardens dancer's "Victory" despite blindness, crushed leg

"Amy's Victory Dance" Movie Interview—WPTV

Amy's Victory Dance

Over 38 Accolades and Official Selection
Film Festival/Film Competition

AMY IS FEATURED IN THE DOCUMENTARY:
AMY'S VICTORY DANCE

An official selection of the Reel Abilities Film Festival.

Directed by Brian Thomas. Two Time Emmy Nominee/Award-Winning Director & Choreographer for Michael Jackson & other world-renowned entertainment icons.

Watch the trailer

Click image

To view the full movie click here:

<https://amzn.to/3FJo2J6>

Victory Dance Project Featured in:

DANCE.com

The New York Times

THE
DANCE
ENTHUSIAST

Los Angeles
Times

CriticalDance

Credits

Victory Dance Project former company member credits include but no limited to:

Alonzo King LINES Ballet, The Alvin Ailey American Dance Theater, Ailey 11, Dance Theater of f Harlem, 'So You Think You Can Dance' winner(France), The Rockettes, Philadanco, Broadway Credits include:Hamilton, American in Paris, The Met Opera Ballet, The Lion King, In the Heights, Moulin Rouge, and graduates of The Juilliard School of dance.

The Dance

Making the Impossible Possible with the Power of Movement

CONTACT US

For media and press inquiries:

Lorna Stegall

LS Communications

lorna@lornastegall.com

817.807.2257

To book Amy Jordan contact:

Zebedee Talent Group Int'l.

Jack Carr and Victoria Wilson

usa@zebedeetalent.com

aj@victorydance.org

917-407-5183